Mr. Corey R. Wiktor
Executive Director
County of Cattaraugus Industrial Development Agency
P.O. Box 1749
9 East Washington Street
Ellicottville, New York 14731

Dear Mr. Wiktor,

We are pleased to provide three Applications for Sale/Leaseback Transaction for our three solar energy projects under development at the vacant former Exxon Mobil Refinery (a NYS Brownfields Cleanup Program site) in the City of Olean:

- The Solean Project – A 4 MW solar energy photovoltaic plant; 100% of its production will be sold to the St. Bonaventure University (a 501c3 Corporation) under a 25-year contract. 1406 RB PV LLC
- The Solean West Project – A 1.6 MW solar energy photovoltaic plant; 100% of its production will be sold to the Olean General Hospital (a 501c3 Corporation) under a 20-year contract. 1470 PV LLC
- The Homeridae Project – A 3.2 MW solar energy photovoltaic plant; 100% of its production will be sold to the City of Olean (a municipal corporation) under a 25-year contract.

To facilitate your processing of these related projects, we have submitted them as a package of three separate applications. The materials in each application are unique to each project but are quite similar. We propose a CCIDA legal fee of $8,000 for each application (including the recommended $750 in expense deposit). In total, we would reimburse IDA legal fees of $24,000.

To address the IDA administrative fees, we propose again to use the same fee across all three projects, and, we propose 0.5% of project costs. This results a total $100,575 in administrative fee payments (in addition to the $2,250 application fee).

The issue of property taxation for solar projects is largely undefined in New York State. We believe these projects are largely exempt from property taxation, as they all are 1) built on qualifying NYS Brownfields Cleanup Program properties, and 2) not attached to, or penetrating, the ground and therefore appropriately classified as personal property. Further, as all output of these three projects is being sold to untaxed entities, the ownership structure could be revised to make the projects tax exempt. However, we recognize that a protracted dispute is not in the interest of our businesses nor the communities in which we will reside. Furthermore, the appropriate level of taxation for a solar energy installation in New York (even if taxable) is unclear.

To try to bring clarity to this question, NYSERDA recommends taxation levels between $1,700/Megawatt of solar capacity and $5,100/MW of solar capacity for projects in the WNY National Grid service area. NYSERDA based these ranges on a solar project comprised of 100% real property equipment, providing energy to taxable entities, and not located on NYS Brownfields Cleanup Program properties. This taxation range is like the annual PILOT payments for nearby wind projects. However, as shown in Attachment 1, we respectfully note solar energy has a lower impact on the nearby communities and is less economically attractive than wind energy.

Our proposed PILOT payments would include all taxes due for both real estate and property for all taxing jurisdictions, including all special districts:

Project	Size (MW)	Proposed PILOT, $/MW	Total PILOT/Year
Solean	4.0	$1,700	$6,800
Solean West	1.6	$3,000	$4,800
Homeridae	3.2	$3,000	$9,600
Total	8.8		$21,200

Attachment 2 summarizes the significant long-term economic and environmental benefits to the community and, in particular, to three key Cattaraugus County institutions - the City of Olean, Olean General Hospital, and St Bonaventure University - who collectively employ hundreds of, and provide material long-term benefits to a great many more, local citizens. It is difficult to put a value on the indirect benefits of the lower operating costs for these institutions, but it is reasonable to assume the saved monies will be used in other ways to benefit the community.

These substantial benefits are obtained by reusing environmentally contaminated, but now remediated, land, that would otherwise be vacant. This extensive and appropriate reuse strategy brings benefit to Cattaraugus County which can be replicated elsewhere - creating jobs and economic benefit.

We hope that you can support our attached applications and we look forward to these projects contributing to the economic and environmental future of Cattaraugus County.

Solar and Wind Energy Comparison for Purposes of Property Tax

Recent discussion regarding property tax values for renewable energy facilities has prompted some jurisdictions to use values assigned to wind energy projects as proxies for values to assign to solar energy facilities. As a result, it is worth noting some of the differences between the two technologies:

	Wind	Solar
Efficiency:	35% ¹	13.4% ²
Site Area Requirements (average acres / MW):	85 ³	5
Production (per MW):	3,066 MWh/year	1,174 MWh/year
Equipment Degradation:	0.2% Annual ⁴	0.5% Annual

Wind energy and solar energy facilities differ significantly in terms of impact on land area as well as production efficiency. A typical wind energy facility requires, on average, 85 acres per megawatt installed. Of course, not all of this area is permanently dedicated to the wind energy facility, but this figure represents the amount of area under lease to facilitate the installation of a wind energy facility. A solar facility, by contrast, only requires approximately 5 acres of land per megawatt. Additionally, wind energy facilities tend to produce more energy per installed megawatt than solar facilities do, resulting in more revenue.

In addition, the issues that generate opposition to wind energy projects all but disappear for solar energy PV. There is no impact on wildlife, there is no discernable noise, there is no change of the horizon view (the panels stick up about 15 feet; a wind turbine about 450 feet) and the projects are significantly smaller.

In the case of Brownfields and Landfill Solar Energy Projects, the systems are ballasted, and are not attached to the ground or a building, so they are non-taxable personal property.

For these reasons, a solar PILOT agreement should be less than a wind PILOT agreement.

All Projects Benefits Summary

Financial Benefits:

The City of Olean, St Bonaventure University, and Olean General Hospital are the sole customers for all the electricity produced from each of the three Projects. They receive benefits in the form of Remote Net Metering Credits (RNMC); the RNMC are calculated by National Grid based on the Project's net monthly electricity production, and this amount is then credited to the monthly bills. The customers pay a service fee to their respective Project that is considerably less than the value of the RNMC. The table below is based on estimated future RNMCs minus the service fee.

In addition, our customers have ownership of all "Green Tags", such as the NYS issued Renewable Energy Credits (RECs). Today, the State is keeping all the REC monetary values, and our customers can use them to meet their sustainability goals. In the future, it is likely the RECs will be tradable, further increasing the customer's financial benefits. Current pricing of RECs indicates a value of 2.4¢/kWh is reasonable; that value is used in the table below.

Direct Reduction in operating costs
Customer (Term)	Average Year	Lifetime Benefit	Estimated Annual REC Benefit
SBU (25 yrs)	$283,000	$7,360,000	$120,000
OGH (20 yrs)	$40,000	$1,000,000	$54,000
City (25 yrs)	$125,000	$3,200,000	$108,000
Total	$448,000	$11,560,000	$282,000

Currently, NYS retains this REC value.

Community Benefits:

The use of zero carbon solar energy to generate electricity results in less electricity generation (and emissions) from other, fossil-fueled, electricity generating plants. Solar projects generate during the day, and this is often the time when utilities have peak demand loads. At these peak demand times, all generating assets are operating, including smaller gas turbines, known as "peakers". Peakers have higher than NYS average CO₂, NO_x and SO_x emissions. We calculated the emissions from a typical peaker as the base case for the three solar projects avoided emissions. To assess a monetary benefit for these reduced emissions, we applied the same values¹ that the NYS Public Service Commission has used for the nuclear plant Zero Emissions Credit².

Avoided Emissions (from all projects)			Social Cost of CO ₂
Parameter	1st year	30 year	1st year Benefit	30 year Benefit
CO ₂ - Tonnes	9,711	227,395	$378,748	$8,868,400
Nox (lbs)	58,734	1,375,262	$400,460	$9,376,789
SOX (lbs)	168,833	3,953,240	N/A	N/A

Schedule B

FINANCIAL AND COMMUNITY BENEFITS SUMMARY

CITY OF OLEAN FINANCIAL BENEFITS:

City of Olean is the sole customer for all the electricity produced from the Project. Their benefits are received in the form of Remote Net Metering Credits (RNMC); the RNMC are calculated by National Grid based on the Project’s net monthly electricity production, and this amount is then credited to the monthly City of Olean bills. The City pays a fee Service to the Project that is considerably less than the value of the RNMC.

The term of the contract is 25 years, with two five-year extensions. The monetary benefits, in the form of reduced operating costs, are calculated assuming the delivery portion of the National Grid bill increases 1.7% annually (this is based on their NYS Public Service Commission filings for the Olean Load Zone), and the energy supply portion is assumed to increase from its current historic lows by 1.5% annually. As a result, the average savings are $125,000/year, and a 25-year cumulative total financial benefit of $3,200,000.

In addition, City of Olean has ownership of any and all future “Green Tags”, such as the NYS issued Renewable Energy Credits (RECs). Today, the State is keeping all the REC monetary values, and City of Olean can use them to meet their sustainability goals. In the future, it is likely the RECs will be tradable for money, further increasing the financial benefits to City of Olean. In the event RECs are tradable, the estimated benefit is over $90,000/year.

COMMUNITY BENEFITS:

The use of zero carbon solar energy to generate electricity results in avoided emissions from other electricity generating plants. Solar projects generate during the day, and this is often the same time when the utilities have their peak demand loads, and are running all their generating assets, including intermittent operating gas turbines, known as “peakers”. Peakers have relatively higher than NYS average CO2, NOx and SOX emissions. We calculated the emissions from a typical peaker as the base case for the avoided emission from the solar project, and these reduced emissions are a substantial improvement in air quality. The table below summarizes the results:

Avoided Emissions	1st year	30 year
CO2 - Tonnes	3,531	82,689
Nox (lbs)	21,358	500,095
SOX (lbs)	61,394	1,437,542

Other community benefits include repurposing the former ExxonMobil tank farm area into a very attractive renewable energy project with no additional load on City or County services.
